Plasma Donar Application

PLASMA

Plasma is a yellowish liquid in your blood that carries platelets, red blood cells and white blood cells around the body.

Plasma makes up approximately 55% of your blood, and contains antibodies, known as immunoglobulins, which fight infection.

These antibodies are made into medicines to help people with cancers, rare diseases, immune disorders and genetic conditions.

Component	Percentage
Plasma	55%
Platelets and white blood cells	4%
Red blood cells	41%
